

Newman Mission Statement	We are a Catholic university...	...named for John Henry Cardinal Newman...	...and founded by the Adorers of the Blood of Christ...	...for the purpose of empowering graduates to transform society.
ASC Mission	To celebrate life	To foster oneness	To walk as compassionate companions	To empower others
Comment	One of the central precepts of Church teaching is the fundamental dignity of the human person. It is on this basis that the Catholic Church has developed its unshakable commitment to the value of human life.	Cardinal Newman's writings on education emphasize the importance of a holistic approach to education as well as the unitary nature of truth and knowledge. Newman University thus "fosters oneness" both as a place where the whole person is educated as one and as a place where the essential unity of truth becomes manifest.	As its history clearly shows, the founding of this institution by the Adorers was itself an act of extraordinary service and devotion to humanity. At Newman we strive daily to emulate the Sisters' remarkable spirit of charity and compassion.	At Newman, we understand higher education to be a means of empowerment, and we answer the ASC call to empower others by naming this as the very purpose for which we exist.
